

Visitor: Allows adding operations without changing the classes or elements on which it operates

Visitor declares a Visit operation for each class of ConcreteElement. The operation's name and signature identifies the class that sends the Visit request to the Visitor. ConcreteVisitor implements each operation declared by the Visitor. Element defines an Accept operation that takes a visitor as an argument.